COUNTRY BOY

Injured While Hiding Freight Train and Is in Critical Condition At Wallingford.

(Special To The Ledger.)

Musea Mills, Ky., April 24.—James Ray and wife, formerly of this place but who now reside at Wallingford, were here Friday en route home from Olive Hill, where they were called by the serious injury of their 12-year-old son, Clarence, who is in a critical condition on account of having had one of his limbs mangled and hip broken when he fell between two cars while stealing a ride on a freight train.

It is probable that it will be necessary to amputate one of his limbs. The boy, who was reared in the country, had run away from home and has been in Knightstown, Ind., for some time. Having relatives in Olive Hill, he endeavored to beat his way to that place.

It was about midnight when some of the citizens were aroused by the boy's cries and he was found lying beside the track near the town. It is thought that the boy fell off while asleep, as he had been on the freight all night.

Mr. B. P. McClanahan of West Second street, who has been on an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. C. P. Walsner at Atchison, Kan., will return home Wednesday, accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Frances Walsner.

Students from the various schools and colleges are leaving this morning to resume their studies after having enjoyed the Easter holidays with relatives and friends here.

Mrs. J. Foster Harbison returned Saturday from Cincinnati, where she has been at the bedside of her daughter, Miss Florence Harbison, who was operated on for appendicitis several days ago. Miss Harbison's many friends will be glad to know that she is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Brookover before her marriage was Miss Ruth Cooper, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cooper of near Aberdeen, and until her marriage several weeks ago was a member of the senior class of the Maysville High School. About five weeks ago she was married in this city to Mr. Frank Brookover of Aberdeen, and about a week after her marriage was taken suddenly ill and continued to grow worse, and the doctors gave up hope for her recovery last week.

Deceased was a young lady of lovable disposition and sterling traits of character and counted her friends by the scores, both in this city and in Aberdeen, and her untimely death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home.

THE CITIZEN AND THE SCHOOL.

No matter how exalted or humble a person may be, there is one sacred duty which he owes to humanity and which is imperatively incumbent upon him to pay. That duty is the protection and the fostering of our public school system.

We are living in an age of education and advancing intellectual development, and the human mind that is deprived of the best advantages obtainable will be hampered and hindered at every step in life. It matters not how bright nor how acute the infantile mind may be, if that mind is denied the advantages of education then the child grown to maturity will be retarded and humiliated because of its intellectual deficiencies. It will be a living monument to the neglect and the indifference of its parents. It will be a mark of shame and a blight upon the community that reared it in its ignorance. It will be an object of pity where it should be one of pride.

Education and the advantages of intellectual advancement have made America a great country. And America is even yet in its infancy.

Our school system should be encouraged and raised to the highest point of efficiency. The instructors should be upheld and given to understand that they have the backing of a united community, and that the community expects satisfactory results.

If our present buildings are inadequate and new ones are needed then for the sake of enlightened humanity let us spend the money and get them. Let us make any other improvements or new departures that the welfare of our children require.

We have brought these children into the world, and in their infancy and youth they are helpless. It is our duty to give them an education that will enable them to successfully cope with the intricate problems of existence that will confront them in later life. To do less would be to neglect a sacred duty, to shame the innocent ones for whose very existence we are responsible.

Let us keep our schools and our children in mind. Let us study their welfare individually and collectively. Let us leave no stone unturned that will advance their moral and material interests.

For the man who honors his offspring is honored of men.

Some of the comments of the learned Senators and Representatives on the Wilson speech to Congress were very weighty and significant. Especially so was the statement of Republican Leader Mann, who said: "I believe the President is trying to bring the United States into a state of war or threatened war during the Presidential campaign." Other weighty and significant statements were made by Senators from the cities and they were about as cautious to not say anything as could be. Taken all together, the statements of the "foxy" politicians amounted to as much as if they had said "Three cheers for Christopher Columbus."

Another election and another Democrat giving away to a Republican successor. This time it is in Kansas City, Mo., where a mayor was chosen. The Republican tendency of 1916 is by this time well established. The Kansas City election is of particular importance, for its demonstrates the solid foundation on which Republicans are basing their claim to put Missouri in the Republican column this fall. The President may attempt to stem the tide by appointing a few more Missouri Democrats to fat offices, but the fact remains that Missouri, like the country at large, has set its face toward Republicanism this year.

In the future the largest memorial body in the New England states will be known as "Sons and Daughters of the Survivors of New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Wrecks."

A brave man lets others do the talking, while the coward tools his own horn.

MAY 7TH IS "GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL" DAY

Much Enthusiasm Has Been Created By This Annual State Event

SEEK ATTENDANCE OF MILLION

Kentucky Association Has Prepared Program to Be Furnished to Sunday-Schools Upon Application—Movement Accomplishes Much Good Since Origin.

Go-to-Sunday-School Day has become an annual affair in the state of Kentucky. The first one was held in 1914, when a great enthusiasm was aroused among the Sunday Schools of Kentucky. In every part of the state invitations were sent out to all the people, organizations were formed, and a new interest in the Sunday Schools was awakened. The attendance upon the Sunday Schools on this day was increased from three hundred thousand to six hundred thousand. Last year the goal set was one million; and so complete was the organization in the different counties and towns, the number was reached. The special direction of the day has been given to the Kentucky Sunday School Association, which is a state-wide interdenominational organization.

This Association has prepared the following program for the day, and will send sufficient copies free to any Sunday School making application for them to the Kentucky Sunday School Association, 712 Louisville Trust building, Louisville, Ky.

ORDER OF WORSHIP AND INSTRUCTION.

May 7, 1916.

1.—Music.—Strains of sacred music played softly, at the sound of which all will be silent.
2.—Call to Worship.—Superintendent—Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name, bring an offering and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.
School—It was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord.
Then thou shalt confess with the Lord, Thou that dwell in the heavens, Thou that art Father of Jesus Christ.
3.—Prayer.—All hail the power of Jesus' name.
4.—Responsive Reading from the Scripture.—Leader—Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.
School—This is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.
Leader—The word is nigh thee, even in the mouth, and in the heart: that is the word of faith, which bringeth salvation.
School—That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.
5.—Hymn.—For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.
School—For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.
Leader—For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek; for the same Lord over all, rich unto all, and unto all that call upon him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.
School—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
6.—Hymn.—Have divine, all love excellently.
7.—Responsive Reading.
Leader—On April 22, 1915, one million people in Kentucky attended Sunday School. This year the Sunday Schools of the state are having a great record and in time we are all hoping that one million citizens of our state will have formed the habit of regular Sunday School attendance.
School—Did our permanent good result from Go-to-Sunday-School Day last year?
Leader—Sunday School officers reported an increase of more than fifty thousand regular attendants as a direct result of this day. Many of the teachers and church members. In some schools that day marked the beginning of a steady growth in membership.
School—Is Kentucky the only state where Go-to-Sunday-School Day is observed?
Leader—The first state-wide Go-to-Sunday-School Day was observed in Kentucky with such splendid results that the whole country has been attracted, and since that time many other states have inaugurated such a movement, and many are planning to have their first Go-to-Sunday-School Day in 1916.
School—How is it possible to secure the co-operation of all the Sunday Schools of this great state in this movement?
Leader—Because the Sunday School workers of Kentucky have formed a state-wide organization, the Kentucky Sunday School Association, which is interdenominational, reaching and helping all faiths, and reinforcing the work of all the denominations.
School—How are the affairs of the Kentucky Sunday School Association managed?
Leader—By an Executive Committee composed of forty members elected by the State Convention to which every Sunday School in the state may send voting delegates. This committee is composed of representatives from the following churches: Baptist, Christian, Episcopal, Evangelical, Lutheran, Methodist, Reformed, and Presbyterian.
School—Is this work needed in Kentucky?
Leader—It is, for in our state for every one who goes to Sunday School there are four who stay away.
Teachers—Because in some counties in the state there are no trained teachers in the Sunday Schools, and yet most of the teaching of the Bible must be done in these schools because there are so few churches where there are regular preaching services.
Women—Because there are fourteen counties in Kentucky where there is no female roll; and less than one-third of the Sunday Schools of the state have female rolls.
Men—Because there are still in Kentucky twenty-one counties where there are no Organized Adult Bible Classes, and twenty-one counties without those departments.
School—Because there are forty counties in Kentucky in which there is no Organized Class for Teen Age Pupils, and there are thousands of these classes that should be having the benefit of class organization.
Leader—These facts and other similar ones indicate the need of conventions, institutes, conferences, surveys, personal visits and other means of promoting standards and stimulating in the Sunday Schools.
School—What is the Kentucky Sunday School Association doing to meet these needs?
Leader—It employs four workers for full time, holds about 400 district and county conventions, institutes, surveys, conducts about 25 institutes, visits about two thousand Sunday Schools each year, to give some direct help, distributes leaflets on the best methods of Sunday School work, sends out many thousands of letters and circulars, responds to every appeal from any Sunday School in the state.
School—How much does this work cost?
Leader—During 1915 the total expense was $2,300.00.
School—How is this money secured?
Leader—From offerings of the Sunday Schools and gifts of individuals. Our Go-to-Sunday-School Day each school is asked to make an offering to this wire. School—How is it possible for any organization to do so much work at an small expense?

Leader—By the help of many hundred volunteer workers in counties and districts, and by the most careful management of the affairs of the Association.
School—Let our schools do its share in this work for "A Greaser and a Better Kentucky," strengthening the work of our own school and extending interest and help to all parts of the state.
8.—Hymn.—Tell me the old, old story.
9.—Lesson Tought.
10.—Reports—Announcements.
11.—One verse of "My faith looks up to Thee."
12.—Tennadition.

The next State Convention will be held in Somerset, October 5, 6, 7, 8, 1916. Every Sunday School in the State is entitled to send delegates to this Convention, and will gain by doing so.

THE STORY OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL DOLLAR.

The result of the Go-to-Sunday-School Day has been manifest in a large increase in permanent membership of Sunday School and Church. As a direct result of the movement last year fifty thousand visitors became Sunday School members. Here are three typical cases:

An Old Soldier.
On "Go-to-Sunday-School Day" in one of our Sunday Schools an old man said, "I am over seventy years old. It has been forty years since I was in a Church. The man who is now Governor of Kentucky was my Colonel during the war. I always obeyed every order he issued. When my old Colonel issued the order that everybody must come to Sunday School today, I had to obey. Now I am here, what are you going to do with me?" A Men's Bible Class was ready for him. Three weeks later he became a member of the Church and has lived a consistent Christian life ever since.

A Young Man.
At another Sunday School, a young man, who had been going with a wild set, was among the visitors on "Go-to-Sunday-School Day." He became a regular member of the Young Men's Bible Class. Soon after he declined an invitation to go on a Sunday excursion where he knew there would be drinking and gambling, saying, "No, boys, no more of that for me. I have something so much better."

A Junior Boy.
For more than a year none of the family had attended Church or Sunday School. On "Go-to-Sunday-School Day" the children were permitted to go and from that day became regular members. In a few weeks the twelve-year-old boy united with the Church. The mother then sent to the old Church home for her letter. And now the father, too, often sits with them at the Church service.

The Kentucky Sunday School Association has been busy in many fields of service. A few of its activities are listed below:

- 1 Go-to-Sunday-School Day, bringing 600,000 visitors to Kentucky Sunday Schools.
- 1 State Convention, bringing together representatives from 63 counties.
- 1 School of Methods for the training of Association officers.
- 1 City Training School, giving a twenty-weeks' course to representatives of forty-nine Sunday Schools.
- 1 Mountain tour by an international worker.
- 2 Older Boys' and Girls' Conferences.
- 20 Institutes.
- 74 County Conventions for the workers of more than three thousand Sunday Schools.
- 104 Counties visited by a state worker, each visit bringing direct help to from one to one hundred Sunday Schools.
- 200 Special rallies.
- 300 District conventions with practical, helpful programs.
- 40,000 Copies of the Kentucky Sunday School Reporter distributed.
- 98,000 Circulars of information distributed.
- 11,000 Personal letters.

With this record back of it and even larger things planned for this year, the Kentucky Sunday School Association, 712 Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky., asks for the hearty co-operation of all people desirous of making a greater and better Kentucky in its work for the best organization, equipment and teaching in all the Sunday Schools of the state. You cannot make a better investment than by making a contribution of this Association. Do it now.

To secure one million people in the Sunday Schools of Kentucky on May 7th, will mean that every member of the Sunday Schools must be present that day and bring somebody else. If you attended last year as a visitor, you will want to go again this year. If you haven't been to Sunday School for years, this will be a good time for you to come and see what is being done in the Sunday School. In most schools you will find many changes, many improvements. You will be sure of a cordial welcome.

MRS. MARY JANE CALDWELL

Mrs. Mary Jane Caldwell, aged 87 years, died Monday at 10:55 p. m., after an illness of two weeks, of general debility, at her home in Millersburg. Mrs. Caldwell had been in declining health for the past year, but owing to her wonderful vigorous constitution, she kept on her feet until a few days prior to her death.

Two weeks ago Monday evening she was seized with a nervous attack, and from that time on it was apparent to her family that the end was near, although she did not take her bed entirely until last Thursday afternoon, at which time she went into comatose state, from which she never rallied.

She was born on December 15, 1828, near Maysville, Mason county, and was one of two sets of children, a daughter of William and Jane Mitchell, her father having been married twice. She was one of seven children, three half-brothers, two half-sisters and one own brother, all of whom have preceded her to the grave. Her father died of cholera when she was quite a little girl, and her mother when she was quite young. After the death of her mother her early life was spent in Paris. At the age of 20 she was united in marriage to Mr. John Nelson Jefferson, a prominent lawyer of Maysville, and to this union two children were born, one daughter, Miss Laura C. Jefferson, who still survives, and one son, W. T. Jefferson, who died when a young man.

Her husband represented Mason county two terms in the Kentucky General Assembly in the early fifties, dying when quite a young man, leaving her with two children. After some years she was united in marriage to Mr. David Caldwell, a prominent farmer of the county, near Maysville, and to this union three children were born, one daughter, Irene Caldwell, who survived by R. M., the older son of the second marriage.

After the death of her husband in 1880 she, with her children, moved to Maysville, where they resided until 1889. She then went to Millersburg with one son and daughter, purchased the farm of the heirs of the late John McClintock, now owned by Mr. J. A. Butler, operating the farm fourteen years. In 1905 she built the home on Trigg avenue, where she died.

She was a broad, liberal minded, intellectual woman, thoroughly conversant with current events, and keeping abreast of the times in all that concerned.

Early in life she united with the Presbyterian church, of which she was a devout member until death. She was strong in her convictions, firm in every position assumed, energetic, and oftentimes was a leader in many enterprises. All who knew her loved her and her superior manners and culture won her many friends. She was gentle, but firm and true, to everything that she espoused. The funeral took place Thursday at 10 a. m., from her late residence, services conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. S. Venable, assisted by Rev. J. D. Todd. Interment at family lot in the Maysville cemetery.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Maysville testimony is proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. S. Neal, 497 W. Second St., Maysville, says: "One of my family had a great deal of trouble from a lame back and weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills made the patient better."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Neal recommends. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ARE YOU A THIEF OR A BUSINESS MAN?

If you deliberately plan to sell another man something which you know is not worth the price you ask, and you depend on his lack of knowledge concerning it to make it possible for you to carry out the deal, you are a thief.

Oh, it sounds a little harsh, does it? Any one making that statement to you—you would call him a liar? You hold that an article is worth to another man just what he is willing to pay for it.

Mighty all-in cover for your dishonesty, this.

If your conscience does not bother you after you have made a deal in which you know that you have wrongfully convinced a man that something you sold to him represents what he paid for it, you have a mean, dishonest streak in you.

You are taking from that man something to which you are not entitled.

That is what the man does who enters your house at night and robs you. That he gives you nothing in return and has not asked your permission before he takes it, is not an argument on which you may refute the statement that you are a thief.

Every bit that you have taken in exchange of the worth of the article you sell makes you a dishonest man.—Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

AROUND THE WORLD.

A Frenchman is the inventor of a grooved street car rail, with notches in the sides, which payments fit nicely.

A Kansas county superintendent of schools has decreed an old-fashioned husky bee for every schoolhouse in her district. Improvement and increase of the school libraries is the purpose for which funds are being sought.

In Norway it has been found that whale meat, vast quantities of which have formerly been thrown away, makes a palatable and nutritious sausage. The meat has proved so successful for this in Scandinavian countries that engineers are now working to develop machinery for cutting up the huge legions and working their carcasses into sausage.

TO THE FRONT

A Mason County Boy Highly Honored—Now Has Charge of Millions.

(Dover News.)

Mr. Charles H. Osborne, a Mason county farmer boy, who went from the Dover school then taught by Prof. F. A. Savage, to Washington and Lee University, where he graduated twenty years ago, went immediately to Chicago during the world's fair where he was employed as paymaster of the Hull Elevator system.

Mr. Fisher, an official of the great fair, immediately saw and recognized his worth and ability and at the close of the fair gave him a position. Six years ago he made him manager of the Fisher office building, one of the best in Chicago. Four years ago he became junior member of the firm of Fisher & Company, forging to the front by his ability to do things.

Mr. Fisher died two weeks ago a very wealthy man, his estate amounting to $15,000,000 or more. When his will was probated a few days ago it named Mr. Osborne as sole executor and trustee of the enormous estate for a period of twenty years. Mr. Fisher is survived by three daughters and one son. Of one daughter's interest Mr. Osborne was made trustee for life. His salary as manager of the Fisher building alone has been $10,000 per year.

This is an honor which has come to few Kentuckians and as Mr. Osborne went out from Dover, having been reared in this precinct, we are so proud of him we want to tell our readers of his success. Showing the great confidence Mr. Fisher had in the fidelity, integrity and ability of Mr. Osborne he requested in his will that he be permitted to qualify without bond.

Mr. Osborne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Osborne.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Stamford, Conn., Nurse Tells How She Found Health.

Stamford, Conn.—"I am a nurse and suffered from a nervous breakdown. I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and nothing seemed to help me. My chance I heard of Vinol, and after taking the first bottle I noticed an improvement, and four bottles made me well and strong, so I can sleep soundly night or day. I consider Vinol a wonderful tonic." Edith R. Forbes, Stamford, Conn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in overcoming such conditions is because it is a constitutional remedy and goes to the seat of the trouble. It is the greatest strength creator we know—due to the extractive medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

We have seen so many wonderful recoveries like this right here in Maysville, caused by Vinol, that we feel perfectly safe in offering to return money in every such case where Vinol fails to benefit.

"THE TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE" AT THE WASHINGTON TOMORROW.

Love and duty conflicting. In the course of one's life brings forth dramatic incidents.

No better exemplification of the fact has come to light than the story of the love of June, a young girl of the Cumberland mountains, daughter of a moonshiner, and that of a young internal revenue officer sent by the government to arrest the distillers of illegal whisky.

John Fox, Jr., the noted novelist, conceived such a story and wrote it. It became a "best seller." Eugene Walter realized its dramatic values and turned it into a play. The theater world was covered for the "June" of that story. Charlotte Walker was chosen. Love and duty had real romance added to it then, for Miss Walker soon became Mrs. Walter. Now this real "June" of real and stage life is to be shown on the screen. Lucky has made a superb production of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" which will be shown at the Washington Theater tomorrow.

This distinguished American actress has done the most admirable work of her career in this picture, the direction of which was personally under the guidance of Cecil B. De Mille, whose "Carmen," with Geraldine Farrar, and "The Cheat," with Fannie Ward, have been the film sensations of the last few months. Theodore Roberts, the greatest character actor of the screen, Thomas Meighan, Earl Fox, Park Jones and a number of other notables are in the all star cast of this production.

The sweepings of London's chimneys make annually 50,000 tons of soot, which sells as fertilizer at $300,000.

PROBLEMS OF RETAIL TRADE

(No. 3.)

Reference was made in the previous article in this series to the problems a merchant has to meet in the matter of returned goods. It is, of course, a two-sided question, with two points of view to be looked at.

A woman may go into a store and make a purchase that showed poor judgment, and which she regrets as soon as she gets home. It is not always easy to make a decision on the spur of the moment, and with a great many people hindsight is better than foresight.

If under such circumstances a customer is permitted to return the goods, assuming that they are not injured in any way and can be put right back in stock, a great service is done by the merchant. He has cemented his friendship with a customer, and saved her from making a mistake she would many times regret. He has made the strongest bid for her future patronage.

There are a great many cases, however, very different from this, and very exasperating to the store people. Many persons will buy a pair of gloves, job down between the fingers to put them on, which splits the glove. Then they demand another pair. A great many merchants will give them the second pair, which will split just the same if misused in the same way.

Merchants say that there are people who will order hats or gowns to wear to some party. Having used them, they will send them back. There are cases where it would seem as if they ordered the goods merely to wear to some occasion, with no intention of buying the goods. They bring them back a little soiled, so that the article must be closed out at a reduction.

Retail trade papers and associations are discussing the matter of returned goods a good deal this spring, and many of them feel that the merchants should unite to prevent themselves from being imposed upon. It is a difficult matter to distinguish between reasonable and unreasonable requests. The public should not expect too much.

Where goods that are not defective are returned because the customer made an error of judgment in buying or using them, and where such a return involves the merchant in a loss, the public should realize that such returns are a charge on the business. The public in the end will have to pay for them as a part of overhead expense.

RUSSIA AND CONSERVATION.

Even Russia, usually considered rather hopelessly reactionary, is waking up to the necessity of conservation. A cablegram from Petrograd says that an expedition sent out by the Department of Agriculture to study the supply of fur-bearing animals has just returned from an exploration tour covering 7,450 miles of territory along the Yenisei river in western Siberia. As a result of his investigation the chief of the expedition, M. Solovieff, recommends an prohibition of killing of the sable for an additional three years, the first period of three years, which will end in October, 1916, having proven insufficient to replenish the supply. Without such protection, in his opinion, the sable will very soon become extinct in Russia.

Pictures painted after the new style of art need to be clearly marked as to which is the top. The purchaser wouldn't know.

GOOD WORK.

Providence is sometimes credited with directing the footsteps by so simple a way as the reading of a food advertisement.

A lady in Mo. writes, "I was compelled to retire from my school teaching because I was broken down with nervous prostration."

"I suffered agony in my back and was in a dreadfully nervous condition, irritable, with a dull, heavy headache continually, had no appetite and could scarcely digest anything. I was unable to remember what I read and was, of course, unfit for my work."

"One day, as if by providence, I read the testimonial of a lady whose symptoms were much the same as mine, and she told of how Grape-Nuts food had helped her, so I concluded to try it."

"I began with Grape-Nuts, a little fruit, and a cup of Postum. I steadily improved in both body and mind. Grape-Nuts has done more for me than all the medicine I have ever taken. I am now well again and able to do anything necessary in my work."

"My mind is clear and my body is stronger than ever before. 'There's a Reason.' Name given by Postum Co., Little Creek, Mich."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

SIXTEEN COOKS

To Be Employed in Preparing Food For Heroes of the Confederacy When They Meet At Birmingham, Ala., in May.

Birmingham, Ala., which will be host to the United Confederate Veterans and their friends and admirers from every part of the country, is planning to entertain about 125,000 visitors during the reunion May 16, 17 and 18. This estimate has been agreed upon after the most careful investigations carried on by the local committees in charge of the work. It is stated that Birmingham's reunion will exceed in point of attendance any reunion ever held by the veterans. The period of prosperity that has favored the south, the fact that Birmingham has such a wide reputation for hospitality, all go into the opinion that the crowds this year will be the greatest ever gathered together to do honor to the hosts of the Confederacy.

In order to care for this vast army of visitors every effort is being exercised by the committees in Birmingham having charge of the reunion. The greatest attention of all is being paid to the veterans themselves. It is anticipated that 6,000 former soldiers will come to Birmingham to be present at the great reunion. This number will be cared for by the city and the whole citizenship of the state is uniting in insisting that every ex-soldier come to Birmingham.

"Come, let us show you how devoted we are to the heroes of the southern struggle," is the way the Birmingham people extend their invitation. It is realized by the members of the arrangements committee for the reunion that the food for the old soldiers is perhaps the most important proposition of all. To that end arrangements have been made for the most excellent commissary department here that has ever served the former soldiers. The commissary department will be located at the state fair grounds where the old soldiers will be encamped.

The committee has arranged the following staff and it is alive here just to indicate the extensiveness of the plans being formulated for the entertainment of the heroes of the Civil war.

Five men to cut nothing but bread. One hundred and fifty waiters to serve the heroes.

Ten pantry men.

Five men to cook vegetables only.

Four men to keep the fire burning bright and furious.

Ten pantry girls.

One headwaiter.

Two assistant head waiters.

This crew to serve the 6,000 old soldiers will be supplemented by the committee of prominent Birmingham citizens who will give their whole time and attention to the preparation and serving of food while the camp is pitched at the fair grounds.

It will be interesting no doubt to indicate the supplies that the committee estimates will be necessary for the meals of the former soldiers.

It is planned to serve 1,000 pounds of beef, 2,500 pounds of ham, 1,500 pounds of bacon at breakfast only; 500 pounds of lard, 1,000 pounds of coffee, 300 pounds of butter, 200 bushels of potatoes. At each meal it is estimated that 700 loaves of bread will be served. The above estimate is based upon three meals per day for three days, with perhaps an odd meal or so preceding and subsequent to the actual reunion dates.

The Birmingham committee in charge of the arrangements have placed their greatest attention in the food for the veterans and it will be the best to be secured.

COURTS ENCOURAGE LYNCHINGS.

The New York World commends a charge given by Judge Spear, of Georgia, to a federal grand jury in Atlanta, as fixing the responsibility for lynchings, when, referring to the state courts, he said: "If lynchings knew to a certainty that they would suffer even a fine of $50, there would be no lynchings."

We doubt if Judge Spear has a more benign influence than the state courts of Georgia.

The punishment of lynchings will not stop lynching. Lynching or mob law, in some form, breaks out constantly in all communities, even in England, where they break up peace meetings, and in New England, where they break up public discussions.

Lynching and mob law will stop when there is no call upon an outraged people to rectify the balance of maudlin sentiment and growing indifference to justice affecting juries, judges and governors. The way to stop lynching and mob law is to enforce state law through the ordinary courses of judicial procedure, by the co-operation of every department of modern government—Louisville Post.

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She Was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and using two bottles of the Sensitive Wash I am fully convinced that I am entirely cured of these troubles, and feel better all over. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

If there is any peculiarity in your case requiring special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for free advice.

THINKS THE VERDUN DRIVE WAS A POLITICAL MOVE.

Paris.—Among the many military writers who are giving to the world their views on the reasons for the German attack on Verdun one of the best known is General Mallette, of the Paris Temps, who believes the movement was begun because the German general staff felt the necessity of striking a blow at some prominent point of the western front in order to obtain a moral success that they could use to impress neutral nations. He admits that Germany has by no means reached the limit of her force.

"The eighteen months that have passed since the battle of the Marne," he says, "have given to us and to our allies time to make up for our want of foresight and our unpreparedness and to gain that superiority with which we shall crush the Germans. This very drive on Verdun is proof that the Kaiser's general staff recognizes that it is incapable of conducting a general offensive which alone can produce a break on the front attacked while holding off other adversaries."

"Germany is reduced to making ventures with her shuttles of armies going to and fro between the different fronts, which are facilitated by her central situation and the remarkable organization of the imperial railways, and whatever partial successes she may attain, at a price more and more disproportionate to the results, she is fated to pass to the defensive everywhere, a defensive powerfully organized, only yielding at the last extremity any of the positions gained and discounting a final settlement as advantageous as possible for herself."

"We must not deceive ourselves. Germany has by no means reached the limit of her resisting power, nor the allies that of their effort. But, common sense tells us that Germany, having mapped out a rapid and decisive war, has left us too much time to compensate for our inferiority at the beginning, and the more time passes the more the balance of force is turning to the profit of the allies."

"In one of his daring announcements which sounded the call to arms for Germany just before the war General von Bernhardi cried in apocalyptic style that 'already God could be heard walking in the world.' And, as a matter of fact, we have heard these first steps of the German 'Thor,' god of holocausts and devastation. As Helmholtz predicted, he came to destroy our Gothic cathedrals. But we hear other sounds, echoes of eternal justice, and among them, strange to say, are German voices."

"We thought," wrote a German journalist in 1915, 'that France was corrupted, that she had lost the sense of national solidarity. We recognize now that the French are formidable adversaries. Those who have led us into all these errors, all these false calculations, all these mistakes, have taken upon themselves a heavy burden of responsibility.'"

"And Prince von Hohenlohe wrote, also a little while before the war: 'There is in France an unalterable faith in the indestructibility of the vital forces of the nation. This dogma is based on the whole history of France. No other people has each time repaired so quickly the consequences of a national disaster, none has regained so easily its energy, its confidence in itself and its spirit of enterprise after cruel disappointments and defeats which appeared to be crushing.'"

SUCCESSORS TO J. WESLEY LEE

HOPE.

First Baseman Nixon of Youngstown, O., a protege of Jimmy McAleer, the former famous big league manager, arrived Saturday for a try-out with the local team. In Sunday's practice he handled himself nicely and looks like a promising player. "Mike" McGraw also arrived Saturday. He seems to be in excellent condition and should be able to round into form rapidly.

It will be good news to the Maysville fans to learn that Manager Jones Saturday finished negotiations with the Frankfort club and signed Catcher Mueller, the star backstop of the Frankfort team last season. Mueller has been anxious to come to Maysville since Jones assumed the managerial burden and he will do much toward filling up the vacancy caused by the loss of DeBerry.

Shortstop Kelly has finally yielded and has signed a contract to play with the Hurley Cubs again the coming season. Kelly was the best shortstop in the league last season and the fans were all anxious to see him back again this season.

Manager Jones put the boys through a nice workout Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The first scrub game of the season occurred Sunday afternoon when two teams were picked from the recruits who have thus far reported and the Maysville Regulars. This gave the boys a chance to work out some of the stiffness and also to get some much needed practice in both the batting and fielding departments.
